

UNCAS LODGE TAKES IN GOETHE

Taftville Odd Fellows Formally Received Into Norwich Lodge
—Goethe Had 32 Members—Ex-Congressman Edwin W. Higgins Gave Entertaining Talk on Panama Canal.

Uncas lodge, No. 11, I. O. O. F., opened a new chapter in its history on Monday evening when the lodge took under its protecting wing the 32 members of Goethe lodge, No. 13, I. O. O. F., of Taftville. Goethe lodge has been meeting in Ponamah hall, Taftville, but they recently gave up their headquarters there and decided to consolidate with Uncas lodge. The consolidation was formally effected Monday evening with Noble Grand D. Louis Browning in the chair at the meeting in Odd Fellows hall, and with about 100 brother members present. Goethe lodge has been in existence for some 19 or 20 years past.

After the business had been cleared up, ex-Congressman Edwin W. Higgins gave a highly interesting talk on the Panama Canal, which he personally visited in the interests of the government some time ago.

Then all adjourned to the dining room, where a delicious chowder was served, while fruit and cigars were passed around by the committee. During the evening there was a Victrola concert, the machine, loaned through the courtesy of the Platt-Cadden company, being operated by A. Curland, a representative of the company. The concert programme follows:

Rheumatism Soon Becomes Chronic

The Result of Tired Kidneys Failing to Expel Poisonous Waste Matter.

Tired, overworked kidneys allow poisonous uric acid to remain in the blood instead of expelling it from the system. That is the cause of chronic rheumatism. The disease gets into some joint or group of muscles and settles there, and only strenuous treatment will dislodge it.

Rheuma softens the uric acid crystals lodged in the joints and muscles, causing the terrible pains, and passes them out of the system through the kidneys and bowels.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. Unless it is pure the organs become diseased. Rheuma purifies the blood and the kidneys, then regain their natural activity.

Lee & Osgood and all druggists sell Rheuma at a price so inexpensive that it is folly to be without it.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

The fourth carload of 1915 Buick Cars will be unloaded this morning by The Imperial Garage.

The carload consists of 1 M-25, 1 M-35 and 1 M-47. These cars will be delivered to customers at once. Additional with 12 cars received from the factory this month. The Imperial Garage was able to obtain cars from near-by dealers, making a total up to date of 16.

On Saturday morning, Sept. 26, an early ride to Middletown was taken, where Mrs. Wm. T. Ward family enjoyed a ride and returned with a Model C-55 Buick Six Cylinder, Seven Passenger Touring Car. This car is capable of seating 8 passengers comfortably.

This car has all the up-to-date features of the 1915 Production, that Automobile Engineers can possibly think of.

The return trip from Middletown was made cross country in 1 hr., 20 min. This is considered to be record time. No complaint from the Ward family was brought up in regards to being shaken up, for the car is of remarkable easy riding quality.

Sunday, the car was well tried out on the hills in the surroundings of Norwich, and found no trouble in negotiating the hills on high gear with eight people, in fact the speed of 38 miles per hour was obtained at the top of some of the hills between Norwich and New London. This car is considered by all who have seen it, to be SOME CAR.

While discussing the Buick stunts at the Imperial Garage, Mr. Lee Mahey reports that on his trip to Maine and return, a distance of 616 miles, the amount of gasoline used was 30 3/4 gallons, averaging 20 1/2 miles per gallon, no oil was added. This average was considered to be a good average, but we find that the car owned by Mrs. Annie B. Hall of this city, has been averaging 22 miles per gallon of gasoline, and 1,600 miles per gallon of oil.

Mr. Mahey also reports that before his trip was taken the front tires on his car had been 5,600 miles, and upon its return the tires were inspected and from the appearance, they appeared to be good for another 5,600 miles.

From these facts the Automobile buying public will appreciate that the modern automobile built today will run very economical.

WILL READJUST AFFAIRS OF QUIDNICK-WINDHAM CO.

Conditions in Cotton Manufacturing Bring Willimantic Mill Into Difficulties—Receiver Appointed.

On petition of Jeffrey Davis of Narragansett, a stockholder of the Quidnick-Windham Manufacturing Company of Providence, with mills at Quidnick, R. I., and Willimantic, Conn., Charles H. Newhall of Pawtucket, connected with the Baltic Mills, was appointed temporary receiver Monday of the company, which was represented in the petition as insolvent and unable to meet its obligations. In the decree of the Rhode Island Superior Court, appointing the receiver the individual creditors are enjoined from bringing suit. The citation is returnable Oct. 13. At the same time ancillary proceedings were begun by the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company in Connecticut, the laws of that state requiring action in such cases by a creditor.

The action taken, it is understood, is a friendly one planned for the purpose of protecting the interests of the company and its creditors pending a readjustment of its affairs, which have become somewhat involved because of present conditions in the cotton manufacturing industry, aggravated by the war in Europe.

No statement as to the amount of the claims against the company is obtainable. The Quidnick Company, which was organized in 1884 to take over the Sprague mills at Quidnick and later reincorporated as the Quidnick-Windham Manufacturing Company, was organized by the late William B. Davis of Providence.

The Willimantic mill operates about 30,000 spindles.

The mills at Quidnick have been closed since week ago Saturday. They were to have resumed Monday morning, but the operations were not resumed because of the suspension of work had been postponed until next Wednesday, but it is not believed that they will resume operations at so early a date.

When the reorganization of the company took place several years ago, the preferred stock was set aside to be disposed of when the corporation needed additional capital according to the stories told prior to the bringing of Monday's action and when it was known that the company was having difficulties, when the time came to dispose of the preferred stock in the treasury of the corporation, it could not be done because of the general slump in mill and other stocks following the changes in tariff legislation.

It is said that the company will get out of its present difficulties provided the plan under foot is permitted to be carried out and there comes soon, the promised, long for revival in the textile industry.

MADE NO EXPENDITURES IN THEIR CAMPAIGNS

Baldwin and Mahan Have Filed Their Statements.

Further indication that the political campaign in Connecticut is inexpensive was noted when the secretary of the senate received from Representative E. P. Mahan the true statements required by law to be filed by candidates. One of these statements was expected before the recent Democratic convention. Mahan's statement shows that Mr. Mahan received no contributions for his campaign and that his expenditures were nothing.

Both the statements were received before R. Nixon, a notary in the secretary of the senate's office, under date of Sept. 23.

Governor Baldwin's second statement as a senatorial candidate has also been received by the secretary of the senate. It shows, as did his first statement, that he received no contributions and made no expenditures in his campaign.

The frame building of C. H. Klinck at 337-335 Bank street, New London, was gutted by fire Sunday morning. The blaze started at the rear of the building from an unknown cause about 2:30. A general alarm was rung in and the recall was not sounded until 3 o'clock.

Tenants in the building who suffered large damage to their stocks of goods were J. Eliot, a Jeweler, and Jeweler, J. Halpern, Jeweler.

The rear half of the Cooney building, adjoining a brick building, was damaged, and dwelling houses on Blinnman street were damaged slightly.

The total damage to the Klinck building was estimated at from $3,000 to $5,000, and the loss of stock and fixtures from $12,000 to $13,000.

The Biblical designation of the day is Yom ha-Kippurim, later shortened to Yom Kippur. According to Biblical tradition it is one of the cycle of holidays instituted by Moses; for we find it mentioned in Leviticus xxiii. 26-32, in the list of holidays. Its ceremonial is described in Lev. xvi, its sacrifices in Numbers xxi. 7-11.

DR. POLLOCK SUBMITTED REPORT TO COMMITTEE.

Did Not Recommend General Purchasing Agent for State Institutions.

The committee appointed some time ago at a meeting of heads of institutions to look into the matter of a state purchasing agency held a meeting in the capital Monday to consider its report. The committee consists of Dr. A. C. Thomas of the New Haven hospital, Sheriff Edward W. Dewey of Hartford county, Dr. H. M. Pollock of the Norwich hospital for the insane, Dr. Noble of the Connecticut hospital for the insane at Middletown, William G. Fairbanks of the industrial school for girls, Warden Ward Garner of the state prison and Dr. Dineen of Meriden.

A tentative report was submitted by Dr. Pollock. In this report it was recommended that the state controller should act in co-operation with the state auditors in a plan for informing those in charge of the different institutions the prices of articles which they might need. The report did not recommend the creation of the office of a general purchasing agent for all the institutions in the state, nor of any office. It is claimed the work can be done in the office of the state controller, with the co-operation of the auditors. It is not proposed to interfere with the right of the management of each institution to make its own purchases. Provision is made for the creation of a board on which there will be representatives of the different institutions which purchase supplies and this board will act in advisory capacity for each institution. There are many standard articles which can be purchased in quantities to supply all the institutions.

The report of the committee will be submitted to a meeting of the heads of departments to be held later. Investigation convinces the members of the committee that the experience of other states has not shown that the plan of having one purchasing agent for the entire state is a good one. In a number of states where it has been tried it has failed to give satisfaction and has been abandoned.

MIDLAND DIVISION OFFICERS ON INSPECTION TOUR.

Will Come Through Here from Webster on New Haven Road.

Nearly all the officers of the Midland division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad left Hartford Monday morning at 8:40 on a road inspection trip over Connecticut and southern central Massachusetts. In the party are Albert W. Honeywell, superintendent of the Midland division; C. C. Elwell, engineer of the public utilities commission; H. E. Astley, division engineer; J. J. Wishart, supervisor of bridges and buildings; and C. O. Warner, signal supervisor. The trainmasters of the various territories to be covered will accompany the party in the inspection parlor car over their own fields.

The route for Monday lay over the Springfield branch, doubling back to Rockville, Vernon and East Thompson. From East Thompson the inspectors went direct to Worcester and remained there over night. Today's (Tuesday's) programme begins at 8 a. m. when the party leaves for Webster, Mass., then to Quinebaug, back to Webster, and from Webster to New London, where the tour will end some time in the late afternoon or early evening.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Vaydeville and Motion Pictures.

The feature attraction at the Auditorium for the first half of the present week is the Girls from Bonnie Scotland, which brought down the capacity houses at both afternoon and evening performances on Monday. Monday evening there was standing room only on the main floor and the reserved seats in the gallery were well filled. In the big vaudeville sketch which lasted nearly a half hour were seen Joe Edmonds and Gertrude Land in one of the latest Scotch musical comedies and they well deserved the burst of applause showered upon them. Next came Eldredge an Equilibrist who is a very clever acrobat and handbalancer, and who received a generous sized share of the applause. Le-Hardt the pianist gave a much appreciated recital in five numbers concluding with one of the old favorites played in variations.

As usual the photo-plays were up to the standard, the featuring film being the seventh, two-reel instalment of the Trey of Hearts. The seventh instalment like the previous instalments was full of action and claimed the close attention of all. Out of the Valley and Vivian's First Fellow, a Crystal comedy film, completed the big bill.

Epworth League Began Meetings.

The Epworth League of Trinity M. E. church, held its first meeting of the season on Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock. At the commencement of the evening church service there was a brief organ recital. The Junior Epworth League of Trinity M. E. church will begin its services next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The service has been changed for various reasons from Friday to Sunday afternoon.
